Because Everyone Deserves an Invitation

Prom is about celebrating together—and we believe the arts should be, too.

Your sponsorship helps ensure that every child, family, and community member receives an invitation not just to one unforgettable evening, but to a lifetime of creativity, learning, and connection through the arts.

Your partnership expands transformative arts education through in-school workshops, student matinees, Theatre for Young Audiences, scholarships, and field trips that introduce thousands of children to the performing and visual arts each year.

It also helps remove barriers to participation by making the arts more accessible and affordable. Thanks to the generosity of our sponsors and donors, the Arvada Center provides accessibility services—including touch tours before audio-described performances, shadow-interpreted ASL performances, and one-on-one aides for children who need additional support—at no additional cost to the patron. We also offer discounts for students, educators, active military members and veterans, and SNAP participants, ensuring more people can experience the joy and power of the arts.

Together, we can ensure that everyone has a place in the audience, an opportunity to grow, and the chance to be inspired.

Thank you for helping us extend the invitation.
